

Win It In A Minute For Charity

Frequently Asked Questions

What is the recommended team size?

10

Should we determine the team composition prior to the event?

This is entirely up to you. For groups of 75 or more, we recommend you determine teams in advance. Otherwise, our lead facilitator will be happy to randomly form teams during the beginning portion of the event.

How long is the event? Can it be modified to fit in a shorter timeframe?

The event runs for 2 hours. The event can be slightly modified to accommodate a shorter timeframe.

What are the space requirements for the event? Can this be done inside or outside?

We request 25 square feet per person for this event. This event can be delivered inside or outside, but please keep in mind that wind will affect many of the challenges, and may limit what challenges we are able to include.

What is the room set up for the event?

Each team needs a round ten-top table and ten chairs. In addition, for every 5 teams (50 people), we ask for 3 six-foot tables . . . one at the room's front, and two at at the room's back or side.

How much time is required for setup?

For most group sizes, we ask for 2 hours to set up. For exceptionally large groups, more time is often required.

How much time is required for "strike," after the event?

The "strike" of this event typically requires less than 15 minutes. Certainly group size and venue layout may cause this to vary slightly.

Who provides the audio/visual components?

We ask you to provide a hand-held wireless microphone and sound system, as well as related technical support for all groups over 40 people. The venue at which you're holding the event is usually able to provide you with these items.

What is the charity that benefits from this event?

Our eventors designed this event to specifically benefit individuals fighting a serious illness, whether it be cancer patients, HIV/AIDS patients, children, or anyone else you have in mind. We encourage our clients to focus on an "awareness" that takes place in each month, such as . . .

September: Childhood Cancer Awareness Month
October: National Breast Cancer Awareness Month
November: National Alzheimer's Disease Awareness Month

. . . in which the event takes place, if applicable, but always leave the ultimate decision up to our clients.

Do you recommend we offer prizes? Any suggestions?

For this event, the prize is generally collaborating and doing good for individuals fighting a serious illness, whether cancer patients, HIV/AIDS patients, children, etc. But, we do recognize that rewards for exceptional work is often a motivator and therefore, award gold medals to the winning team, if you would like.
